

Last week, Sinclair Broadcast Group – the largest owner of TV stations in the U.S. – ordered its 62 stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary a few days before the election. Their aim is clear: use their monopoly rights to the public airwaves – in clear violation of the spirit of the law – to sway the election in favor of a candidate that staunchly allows media companies to get even bigger.

This is all I know of this right now but wanted to act and tell you I find this appalling. I would appreciate anything done to stop this.
